

Medical Application Policy

NOVA Chemicals will not knowingly sell any product into any commercial or developmental application that is intended for:

- a) Long-term contact* with internal body tissues and fluids, or fluids entering the body
- b) Use in cardiac prosthetic devices regardless of the length of time involved
- c) Use as essential components to the functioning of life-supporting devices
- d) Use to facilitate human reproduction, including expectant mothers, or contraception

*Long-term contact is defined by 24 hours or more, including cumulative contact for intermittent uses. Contact of less than 24 hours would need to be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Pharmaceutical

Pharmaceutical packaging is acceptable for designated grades. All products intended for use in pharmaceutical devices/applications, other than pharmaceutical packaging, must be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Related Applications

Applications such as ancillary medical support articles and laboratory testing parts will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Should you have any questions or require more information, please contact your NOVA Chemicals' business representative.

Disclaimer Information

NOVA Chemicals does not make recommendations regarding the suitability of a particular resin for a medical application, but can inform and advise customers as to resin properties or provide results of testing as may be agreed with a customer, but the final decision and liability regarding the use of NOVA Chemicals' resins in medical application products will be solely that of the customer.
